MOUTH ORGANS COME FIRST

Little Instruments Will Win the Great War, is the Opinion of Tommy Atkins

Although his clothing was like a nardened mud casing, his rifle and Dayonet rusty, his ammunition clips gritty with the dirt, one article of his stupement Tommy kept dry and clean and shining-his mouth organ. A oroken rifle was of no concern-anothwas easily obtainable; but a ruined -wouth organ was nothing short of a Mamily.

In England I regarded these little instruments with contempt. In France, dearned to value them at their true worth. As for Tommy, he has often cemarked that high explosives and com are highly important, 'but mouth rgans is wot's go'n' to win the war."

They were our one solace and defight. I can say in all seriousness that they saved many a man from losing his grip upon himself during moments when the strain of "sitting" tight was atmost unbearable. James N. Hall in Columbus, where the battery now is

Export of Agricultural and Mi tured Products for Twenty Months

"Figures show," continued Mr. Lynch, "that within the last 20 months we have exported $4,000,000,000 of agricultural and manufactured products, while in the same time the value of war munitions exports make a to-tal of only $340,000,000. These, indeed, are startling figures, but we could cut out the value of the exportations for the warring countries of Europe and have still a tremendous total coming solel; from the nation's industry and natural wealth. Of course our Republican friends are quick to say that all this prosperity is due to the extraordinary conditions in Europe, but they are appealing to the credulity of the people and will, I think, make very little headway with those who take the pains to make a careful investigation.

Truths About the Navy

We know now when the decay of the American navy set in under the maleficent influence of Secretary Daniels and the Democratic administration as a whole. The report of the general board of the navy, dealing with our fall from second rank among the fleets of the world, gives exact data. On the basis of displacement of ships built and building, the United States dropped behind Gerfrom the throne and the taking of a many in 1909. On the basis of displacement of ships in commission we fell behind in 1911. For part of 1909 Mr. Roosevelt was president. In 1911 Mr. Taft was president. Since it is inconceivable that Mr. Roosevelt should have been responsible for the criminal neglect of our navy, it must be assumed that the loss of second place in 1909 occurred after March of that year. But, on the other hand, a fleet does not go to pieces in a day. There are such things as naval programs which must be drafted years in advance. If, therefore, in 1909 our navy had to make way for Germany's, it must be that, for several years be jects to be kind and courteous to the fore that, there was no that wise pro-

A "stampede proof" convention, in the opinion of the Republican leaders, is one which will do what the old guard leaders from Massachusetts. New York, and Pennsylvania think is best to be done.-Kansas City Star.

The Issue of Smartness. The main trouble with the Republican party is that it has no principles and no issues that relate to actual conditions of government, and does not know where to find them. All the claim it can make to power is the egotistical assertion that while there may be no party issue, Republicans are ipso facto smarter than Democrats and so ought to govern. No opposing party ever overturned a national administration on such a platform, and we doubt if one ever will.

Reveals a Sorry Condition. Republican opportunists find nothing improper in going outside their party to consider the availability Roosevelt the disrupter, or Ford the ingenious mugwump, but they could not, of course accept the leadership of the man who leads the opposition to Republicanism, Nothing must be done which would so ad vertise present distress or so imperil the future existence of the party .-Cleveland Plain Dealer,

The Wrong Cart?

The New York Tribune, which came out with such a whoop for Roosevelt a few weeks ago, seems to have quietly crept indoors again. At least it is not whooping any more for the Bull Moose chieftalu-not since the Massachusetts primary, but has decided to take a vote among its readers to find out where it is "at." Can it be that it is beginning to fear that the vehicle it jumped into so precipitously is not a band wagon, but a tumbril?-Louisville Courier-Journal.

No Doubt of It. Possibly T. R. thinks that the administration arranges its policies for the sole purpose of irritating him .-Houston Post.

टूडी The Wheat Yield 🐾 🙊 Tells the Story of Western Canada's Rapid Progress The heavy crops in Western Canada have caused new records to be made in the handling of grains by railroads. For, while the movement of these heavy shipments has been wonderfully rapid, the resources of the different roads, despite enlarged equipments and increased facilities, have been strained as never before, and previous records have thus been broken in all directions. The largest Canadian wheat shipments through New York ever known are reported for the period up to October 15th, upwards of four and a quarter million bushels being experted in less than six weeks, and this was but the overflow of shipments to Montreal, through which point shipments were much larger than to New York.
